Software Engineer Python & Data

Software developer focused on market data and operational tools. Built and operated Polybow, a self-funded trading system, then investigated execution and reconciliation failures. Earlier experience in logistics and live futures trading informs how I approach records, timing and data quality.

INDEPENDENT PROJECTS & OPEN SOURCE

Polybow - independent project, 2026

Built and operated a Python trading system on AWS Lightsail with WebSocket books and signed CLOB requests. Investigated execution and account discrepancies; published a ledger and postmortem. Live trading stopped; not evidence of durable profitability.

Pattern Forge

Built market replay that recalculates indicators from available candles only. Tests exclude incomplete timeframes and future data.

Info Desk

Built versioned evidence retrieval and cited AI drafts, with tests for invalid citations and interrupted jobs. Live research runs locally; the public demo is recorded.

Haystack #12635 - merged

Fixed validation rejecting zero-valued hierarchy metadata; added a regression test and release note.
