Software Engineer Python & Data

Python-focused software developer working on market-data capture, time-series replay and trade reconciliation. Built and operated an independent trading system, then published its limitations and postmortem. Background in futures trading and logistics operations.

INDEPENDENT PROJECTS & OPEN SOURCE

Polybow - independent project, 2026

Built and operated a Python trading system on AWS Lightsail with WebSocket books and signed CLOB requests. Investigated execution and account discrepancies; published a ledger and postmortem. Live trading stopped; not evidence of durable profitability.

Pattern Forge

Built market replay that recalculates indicators from available candles only. Tests exclude incomplete timeframes and future data.

Info Desk

Built versioned evidence retrieval and cited AI drafts, with tests for invalid citations and interrupted jobs. Live research runs locally; the public demo is recorded.

Haystack #12635 - merged

Fixed validation rejecting zero-valued hierarchy metadata; added a regression test and release note.

EXPERIENCE

De Bommel
